Why on earth do I need this extension?

Magento Auto Shipping shows the price for shipping right away, which is very important for any e-commerce shop. Every additional action required from a user on checkout ruins your conversion. This free extension reduces the number of actions showing more information at once, thus improving your conversions.

What is more, this Magento extension is especially useful when you ship to a single country only.

Is Magento Auto Shipping extension compatible with other extensions?

Be sure! Magento Auto Shipping is compatible with all Amasty extensions, what is more, it works perfectly well in a team with Shipping Table Rates, together they let you create multiple table rates and set any of them as a default one, displaying other table rates as options on the shopping cart page:
