

Meet Magento Italy 2015

Ksenia Dobрева Jan 26, 2015

It is the country of pasta, pizza and arts! But it is also the country where Magento's experts and lovers gather to share their knowledge and experience on the most appreciated and used e-commerce platform: we are talking about Meet Magento Italy. The conference will be held for the second time in Milan, on 5th & 6th March.

Last year Meet Magento made its debut in Italy, and it was very successful with 327 attendees, 33 speakers both national and international and 22 sponsors. This year the Italians expect about 400 attendees including merchants, developers, service providers and Magento experts.

The Agenda

The conference will incorporate two days fully immersed in the Magento ecosystem with both tech and business topics dedicated to new e-commerce trends, Magento 2 technical updates, best practices, successful case studies, Varnish, Agile project management and so on.

Magento official representatives will be there too and important companies like Magento Inc, PayPal, Contactlab, MagNews and many others have already confirmed their participation and they will be there as sponsors or speakers. Amasty will be there too as a media partner. Further details on the 2-day-event are available on the website.

The location

The conference will be held at Hotel Michelangelo, in Milan. The venue is a perfect spot, easily reachable by underground or by bus. It is just next to the central rail station in Milan.

Tickets

If you wanna be a Meet Magento Italy 2015 attendee, you can get your ticket at the standard price of € 189,00 + VAT instead of € 249,00 + VAT. This offer is limited and valid until February 25.
