Alena Dalidovich Aug 15, 2013

Have you ever seen bears in ear-flapped hats at the Red Square of Moscow?

No?

And it is never going to happen

However, there are 2 other important reasons to visit Moscow on August 24, 2013. The first one is to meet Amasty team and the second one is Meet Magento Russia conference. So you can kill two birds with one stone.

Meet Magento Russia is an official international conference about Magento and Ecommerce, where you'll have a chance to make contacts and gather ideas. The conference offers a wide range of opportunities. You can multiply your knowledge of Magento, make contacts with developers and shop owners or meet your favorite vendors.

Amasty is a gold sponsor of Meet Magento Russia. We sponsor such events, because we believe that the exchange of experience and open dialogue with customers are the ways to an ideal development and splendid customer service. Meet Magento conferences are famous for the lectures. Our Chief Strategy Officer Alex is going to rock the stage this August with a lecture “Magento vs SEO”

Come and find out the result of this battle!

We're looking forward to meeting you on August 24, 2013 in Moscow,

Russia.
