Hello to Amasty blog readers!

We're glad to start planning our 2018 Magento community activities.

Now, we are happy and proud to announce that Amasty Developer Margarita Nikolenko will speak at Meet Magento Netherlands on June, 1st, 2018. She will talk about users' voice interface development for e-commerce based on voice recognition technologies.

Margarita will be happy to share the details of this topic with the audience, as voice recognition is a rising trend in the global e-commerce industry, which very soon might be something used by each and every e-commerce store out there. What is more, Margarita wrote her Bachelor's degree graduation paper on this topic, so we're sure her speech will be full of useful information.

Are you going to visit #MM18NL, one of the very first and popular Meet Magento events? Feel free to find us and say hello any time.

Stay tuned, and have a nice weekend!
