To manage display of address attributes in address blocks all over the website, please go to System -> Configuration -> Customer Configuration -> Address Templates.

For the address attributes to be displayed in customers' accounts on front end, on checkout pages, on order view pages, invoices, shipments, credit memos, please add the attributes to 'Text' and 'HTML' address templates in the following format:

Contact Person: {{var contact_person}}

Instead of contact_person use the code of your attributes. To display each attribute in a new line please add tag after each attribute. Please enter attributes in the order in which you would like them to be displayed.

If you would like to display optional attributes only when there are values entered for the attributes, please use {{depend}} tag, for example:

{{depend mobile}}Mobile: {{var mobile}}

This way mobile phone will only be displayed when customer enters it. Please replace 'mobile' with the code of your attribute.

For the address attributes to be displayed in PDF documents, please add the attributes to 'PDF' address template in same format.

To display each attribute in a new line please add '| ' symbol after each attribute. 'Depend' tag can be used for this template as well.

Further in this user guide you will find a few examples of where the address attributes can be used. The examples cover only some possible applications, you can find more information about where the attributes are displayed/used at the extension page on our website. If you hesitate whether the attributes can be used for some particular purpose or displayed on some page – please feel free to ask via our support form.

Here's an example of address attributes on checkout.
