Configurable Preselect

General Settings

Preselect First Options for All Products	Yes
Preload Image Block from Simple Product on Product Page	Yes

Let's say that configurable products in your store have 2 options: size and color. By default Magento doesn't display the second option (color), while the first (size) is not selected. If Preselect First Option is set to 'Yes', both configurable options (color and size) will be displayed on page load for all products. See p.5 for sample.

To specify general extension settings, please go to System -> Configuration -> Amasty Extensions Tab.

The option automatically presets an image of a simple product on page load. See p.6 for sample.

2. Choose default product

- Customers Tagged Product
- Custom Options
- Associated Products
- Product Orders

To specify default option for a configurable product please go to edit the product in admin panel, open 'Associated Products' tab, find 'Default Configurable Preselect' block and indicate the id of the simple product, which should load by default.

Super product attributes configuration

You can also give direct link to an option of configurable product, by specifying id of the simple product in the url.

For example you have product url http://your_site_url.com/product.phtml. Add '?sel=' and id of the simple product after the url to get a link like this:

<http://yoururl.com/product.phtml?sel=2>

When a customer opens such link, the configurable product page will display the simple product, id of which is indicated in the link.
